

Some people get lucky with their work activities. East Gippsland Catchment Management Authority (EGCMA) and West Gippsland Catchment Management Authority (WGCMA) recently took a joint field trip to share information about Gippsland waterway management. The East Gippsland-based trip included Cann River, Mackenzie River, Orbost and Marlo. The participants said it was an ideal opportunity to collaborate and share knowledge. Some beautiful images taken by David Stork, environmental water coordinator at WGCMA, have been a huge hit on the EGCMA social media sites since. One of the stops was a grade control structure on the Cann River. (Photos: David Stork)

The sky at Marlo. (PS)

The teams enjoy the view from the suspension bridge over the Mackenzie River.